BLACK GROS-GRAIN LIST.

on the straight road to the Great Broadway Bazaar of

.CRAWFORD & CO

We are manufacturers. Our various retail stores, like the When, are simply depots, where the products of our factory are sent to be sold by the single garment. Therefore, they who buy of us are on the "ground floor" with other dealers. The individual buys of us just as other stores buy of the factories, and hence saves one price.

The When is about the only establishment in this market that enjoys this advantage. No hocus pocus; you see there is none of it. It is simply superior business advantage. Those apply to all departments. From the little toddler to the tottering gray head we can furnish clothes below all competition, for just the reason stated. We have one of the largest and finest stocks in St. Louis. COME, SEE US.

To those of you who will make up your mind that this is a fraud and that the value of the present is taken from the quality of the goods sold we would say that the plan is simply a method of advertising whereby the consumer is benefited equally with the dealer. The goods sold by us are equal in QUALITY to those sold by any house in the State. We WARRANT every PACKAGE and if TEA, COFFEE or BAKING POWDER is found to be other than as represented it may be returned and the money will cheerfully be refunded.

Below will be found a detailed description of the floats which will constitute the pageans of the Veiled Prophet on Tuesday evening next. As in every year since the Prophet first smiled upon the city of St. Louis the POST-DISPATCH is the first paper to present in rost-Disparch is the inst paper to present in advance an account of the subject to be illustrated and a description of the illustrations.

The Post-Disparch's secret emissary is the only mortal who has penetrated the secrets of the Prophet's realm, his is the only mortal eye that has behold the Prophet's brawny workmen carving the frames and beating out the cold and allowed addorn them. gold and silver to adorn them. Dazzled with a brief glimpse of sight brighter than the eye of man ever looked upon before he field to earth again. For fifteen days he lay in a darkened room. Not till yesterday was he able to relate the tale of his adventures. Many things there are which he dare not reveal. All that will be known to the people of St. Louis on Tuesday evening next, all that will be seen by her visitors, however, he tells below. That the pageant will be magnificent is already assured. That it will equa the efforts of former years is more than certain. When the entrance to the Prophet's subterrangen Prophet's subterran passage is thrown open on Tuesday evening and his followers, radiant in the reflected giory of another world, pour forth, the people of St. Louis may expect to be dazzled. The line of march which the parade will take the Post-Disparch has already published. Appended to the description of the pageant are now given the regulations for the great ball which closes the Prophet's festival. The Chairman of the Reception Committee this year is E. C. NINTH FLOAT—POCAHONTAS AND JOHN SMITH. The story of the admirable devotion shown by Pocahontas in saving the life of John Smith, after Pownattan had decreed that his head should be crushed, is one that is familiar to all students of American history. This float also presents a familiar picture to many. John Smith is represented as bound and with his head on a rough stone. A huge Indian warrior stands ready with uplitted club prepared at a signal to dash out the captive's brain. Grouped around, the warriors stand grand in their stern resolve to see the white intruders wept from the face of the earth Powhattan stands tail and erect with folded arms gazing with stern astonishment at his daughter Pocahonfas, who shields with her arms the head of the pale-face, all the while pleading cloquently for his life. The back-ground represents a forest scene with wigwams and camp fires.

TENTH FLOAT—HENRY HUDSON.
The Hudson River is now one of the greatest highways of commerce known to the world, and the immense fleets of barges and steamers which play on its bosom form a never-ending procession from the time that winter releases it from its tey embrace until it again closes it with the icy blasts of winter.

Henry Hudson was the first white man to enter its mouth, and he at the time thought he had discovered the much-sought-for North-west passage.

will be used to give the picture a startling realism.

TWELFTH FLOAT—LANDING OF THE PILGRIMS.

One of the grand events in American history was the arrival on these shores in 1822 of that band of hardy men, who, preferring religious liberty to all other privileges, left home, friends, everything to establish themselves in the New World.

Before leaving the Mayflower the Pilgrims formed their simple rules for government, and bound themselves sacredly to observe these laws. Their religion was their most sacred law, and in prayer they signed their name to the paper drawn up by them.

signed teler name to the paper and a specific them.

This floats represents the Pilgrims as they landed on Pilgrim Rock. A small boat has just touched the rock and some of the Pilgrims are disembarking on the rock, a small fire has been kindled and crouched around it are some few women and children huddled together trying to shield themselves from the bleak wind. One of the Pilgrims, with an old-fashioned musket, stands near as a guard.

c reining his horse in and raising his hat. The if front and rear of the float are draped with dags.

EIGHTEENTH FLOAT—WESTWARD HO! 1849.

The argonaut of 1849 has always been a fruitful theme with poets and other writers, and the adventures of the hardy a full theme with poets and other writers, and the adventures of the start was the spread interest, and the exodus to the spread interest, and the exodus to the sample of the spread interest, and the exodus to the magnitude. The float represents a familiar scene. A huge rock is presented into which a party of miners have tunneled. The miners are represented at work with pick and is shovel, and one is acting as cook, preparing the mid-day meal at a fire. A kettle is swung on a tripod over the fire and the stait wart miner is engaged in the duties of his of floe. Coming around the rock is a typical '49 team attached to a prairie schooner. A horse and a steer comprise the team and the owner of the outfit is leading them. From beneath the cover of the wagon up to the process of the specimen of a dog, without which no emigrant's family was complete.

NINETEENTH FLOAT—KING COTTON.

One of the great industries of the coun-

enter its mouth, and he at the time thought he had discovered the much sought-for Northwest passage.

The float represents the old-style Dutch type of vessel with towering bow and stern. Sails spread and the crew of quainty attired salors on deck handling the various ropes and sails. Henry Hudson stands on the poop fully armed, and rows of brass canonades peop frowningly from the port holes along the vessel's sides. A cancer full of Indians has just ranged alongside and its occupants are gazing with wonder on the paic-laces and their large vessel.

ELEVENTH FLOAT—BURNING OF A DUTCH VIL.

The staid and placid Knickerbockers did not always dwell in peace and friendship with the original owners of this soil and bloody wars followed each other with alarming rapidity. As a ruie the white settlers were victorious; but offers the laidians made reprisals abloody on. This float depicts one of these astices and helf-sum of the twenty of the town as bloody on. The contest in the Twenty-eighth Ward attracted attention on account of the prominence of the defeated candidates. Mr. George D. Reynolds, one of the leading local lights of the party, beaded the ticket. He had for associates George B. Morgan, W.A. Brawner, Louis Shaeffer, Jos. Oakam and Dr. E. B. Thomas. The lowest number of votes received by a candidate on the Conrades ticket, was 179, while Reynolds received 121 votes. No notices of any contests were filed with the officers of the Central Committee today, and it is generally understood that the result of the primaries is accepted with a good grace all around, and that no trouble will be experienced in the seating of the delegates in the convention.

The Republican City Central Committee will meet at 8 o'clock this evening to canvass the vote and issue certificates of election to the

with the boss brewers on several occasions are absolutely false and without foundation. "Why," said Mr. Sullivan, "such rumors are ridiculous. Ever since the trouble between the boss brewers and their employes began mysels and the other members of the Executive Board have been most assiduous in our efferts to have a consummation devoutly to be wished, but thus far we have signelly falled in our efforts to have a consummation devoutly to be wished, but thus far we have signelly falled in our efforts to have an audience with them. Why, when hiesers. Bonney and Stanton heard yesterday that I had held a consuitation with the brewers they came over to this side at once to congratulate me and ascertain the result. But I am sorry to say that they had no cause to congratulate me, as I had not held a conference with the brewers on last Sunday or any other day, although I would much have liked to do so and settle the difficulties between them and their employes if it was in my power to frame some agreement which would be satisfactory to both. The truth of the matter is that the brewers' knowing that it is an article of our constitution that a boycott cannot be declared until after arbitration has failed, have been anxious to avoid us. Some of them in order to accomplish their desire not to confer with us have even left the city, so you can imagine how joyfully my fellow members of the board felt when they heard that I had been successful where they had failed. That I should be deposed for accomplishing, as it was supposed, what all the other members of the Executive Board had failed to bring about, is therefore, syou see, ridijulous. I have been seriously thinking of resigning for some time past, however, and have no? come to the conclusion to do so. Since I have been appointed Superintendent of Schoolls in East St. Louis, I find it imposible to fully attend to the dutie; of that office, and also perform my duty to the working men as Master Workman of District Assembly No. II. I have therefore written out my resignation, sent it to the Executive Board at the November meeting."

Mr. George W. Jenks & Son, the proprietors of the stock yard 'bus line, have decided to petition the Cit/Council to grant them a franchise to establish a street-car line in this city. The proposed route is the same as the old street-car line, which was discontinued for want of patronage. That was a number of years ago, however, and as the city has grown considerably since then, Messrs. Jenks are confident that a street-car line now would be a paying investment. Their petition to the Council will contain the signatures of two-thirds of the property owners along the proposed route.

A BRUTAL TEAMSTER.

Wm. Granberry, a teamster for the St. Louis coal firm of McKinley & Denman, was beating his horses frightfully on the Island last even ing because they were unable to pull a heavy load out of the mire. A humane witness of the teamster's brutality notified State Agent Eggman. The latter went to the scene, but when Grunberry saw him coming he abandoned his team and started to run across the bridge. Eggman pursued him and effected his capture after a lively chase. He was taken before Squire Draggon and fined $5 and costs.

A real live duchess will arrive at the Southern to-morrow morning. Nota make-believe, shoddy, living-on-her-title duchess, but one born of the blood, aristocratic as a Sevres was and wealthy enough to live as duchesses do in romances. This high-born woman is the Duchess de Luynes, and she is accompanied by her son, the young Duke, and her daughter, Mile. de Chevreuse, who, rumor says, is one of the most charming girls France owns. Mr. Samuel Cupples, who met the Duchess while abroad, made the arrangements for her reception at the Southern, where she is to have a suite of rooms, the most luxurious in the establishment. The party includes two maids and a valet, which, considering the character of the tourists, is a reasonable allowance of servants. Christian Bower Arrested for Resisting the Advances of a Fair Temptress.

Maggie Dempsey and Christian Bower were before Judge Cady this morning on counter charges of disturbing the peace. Christian is a stone-mason, and resides at Third and Convent streets with his wife and family. Sunday night he was passing Maggie's house at 217 South Sixth street, and she attempted to pull him in. He refused to go and she hit him over the head. Then they grabbed hold of each other and were struggling when Actine-Serge. O'Malley came along and arrested both of them. When he had taken them to the hoodlum box Maggie again struck the good Christian. As Christian appeared to have done nothing but resist Maggie's attempts to lead him astray he was discharged and she was fined $5.

FORENON SESSION—CLOSING I P. M.
Wheat opened strong and sold up 40, where at local bulls were jubliant and were in the pit bidding for jags—nothing but round lots wanted. The decrease of over 1,400,000 bu reported by New York in the amount on passage for Europe was a stimulating influence and coming after yesterday's strong close caused quite a ready rush to buy. A New York ghost story was around of a big combination formed there and in Chicago to buy wheat, which received some credence. But the boom was nipped very suddenly and a fail in price followed that fairly took the bulls' breath away, not to speak of their nerve. Chicago turned and declined very rapidly after first showing firmness and advices of increasing receipts expected in the Northwest, their statement of wheat on passage increasing fed,000 bu, and the favorable European markets came upon the bulls like a cold shower bath. The tenor of cables was very discouraging, most of them reporting dull and inactive though steady markets. As other markets came upon the bulls like a cold shower bath. The Manchester Markets.

The Manchester Markets.

London, September 29.—The Manchester Guardian in its commercial article says the upward movement progresses. The tendency is pretty general in the yarn department, but many descriptions of cloth have not advanced. Buyers are not prepared to follow the rise. Tuesday's effort to establish higher prices was founded mainly on the growing dearness of cotton. Buyers treat this as a wholly insufficient reason. The increased cost of production, however, strongly impresses sellers. Those fortified with orders demanded full prices at the risk of losing business. Others needing further orders were content to accept the best prices obtainable. The supply at previous prices was nearly equal to the demand. In a few cases an advance on Friday's rates was paid, notably by buyers, whose requirements would admit of no postponement. The market, however, was very strong. India and China merchants did not help the market much, as their orders were mostly infeasible. The actual business transacted was from the smaller foreign markets and the home trade. Export yarns were decidedly dearer. The sales were not large for Tuesday. Sellers command better terms than on Friday. Home consumers bought sparingly, having provided liberally for the principal wants. The cloth market was generally inactive. Prices were strong, owing to full engagements. Frinting cloths and other finishing goods, were steady with a moderate demand. Heavy goods were more saleable, but it was difficult to secure an advance.

Provisions were just as dull and unsatisfactory as they have been since the decline set in, but worse than that, they were mowed down another notch in price to-day. There was only the usual order demand in the way of business and that was small, even at reduced figures. As for upcountry meats to arrive it was impossible to get local buyers to bid for them, much more purchase, as they are more intent in getting rid of what they have than in increasing their sapplies. Fully oured dry salt o'rlbs were offered at 7c and winter at $1.00.

THE METROPOLITAN PRESS. What the Editors of the New York Journa Are Saying This Morning.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, September 29.—The World say o-day: "A President of the United States has a vast army of office-holders under him, but they are servants of the people, and should not be permitted to either dominate their own party for his benefit, or to employ the time that belongs to the public in working against political opponents. It is not proposed to interfere with the right of elective officers to participate actively in politics. That is a matood taste must regulate. But it is right that subordinate officials should be required to keep their hands out of politics.'

The Sun says: "The Hon. William R. Morrison's candidates seem to have been defeated at the Madison County Convention in his Congressional district on Monday. His distribution of the Federal patronage has not given universal satisfaction, which is very hard luck, as Mr. Morrison spent most of last summer in Washington looking for offices for his constituents. But the path of the just man is often hard. Mr. Morrison, however, never knows when he's beaten, and is not to be discouraged."

knows when he's beaten, and is not to be discouraged."

THE TIMES.

The Times says: "The Democratic politicians who profess themselves loyal to the Administration do not deserve any higher compliment to their sagacity than to be told that they are not absolutely political idiots. It is doubtful if even this moderate eulogy can truthfully be bestowed upon the journals which profess to be in some sense Democratic organs, and which are yet evidently conducted with the view of paying off the personal grudges which their conductors harbor against the President."

THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribune says: "The issue may be put in a nutshell thus: The liquor traffic is hurtful to society as a whole: the Republican party tries to restrain as far as public opinion will, or to make it bear as much as possible of the public expense it caused; the Democratic party tries to remove restraints from it as far as possible, and to get rid of laws which make the traffic bear any burdens which it causes."

The Fair Grounds Amphitheater To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Will some of your smart correspondents ca ulate the seating capacity of the large Am phitheater at the Fair Grounds? Of course each circle is larger than that interior to it. The calculation is easily made. Then allow 1½ feet for each seat. Disregard the openings, which will allow a liberal margin. HISTORY OF THE CASE.

Miss Watkins came to St. Louis from Denver, tool., with her sister, Lillie. They were on their way to New Orleans, and while in the city were the guests of Mr. Jas. Martin, No. 2216 Gamble ayenue. On Thursday, May 18, 1882, she went to visit an sequaintance, the who lived near the Martin residence. A party had been arranged for that night by Mrs. Martin to entertain the young ladies, and as Missouri did not return to dress, a message was sent to the house where she was supposed to be calling. It was then learned she had not been there that day and her friends immediately became alarmed. The police were notified but the matter did not leak out for two days. She was between 16 and 17 years old, slight, well formed, blue eyes and brown hair. It She was between 16 and 17 years old, slight, well formed, blue eyes and brown hair. It was thought she had gone away with some Western lover, but her sister and all her friends denied repeatedly that she had ever formed an attachment for anyone. The police worked almost entirely upon the theory that she had gone away of her own notion and for a base purpose. Her friends refused to believe she had not been foreibly carried away, and was being detained against her will, or had been murdered. On the morning of Tuesday, May 30, Joseph Roy, a fisherman, found the body of Missouri Watkins floating in the river near the foot of Market street, Carondelet. No evidence was adduced to show whether her death was suicide or caused by violent means, and this has remained a mystery, although it was believed to be a case of suicide.

New York, September 29.—The trial of James

J. Titus for the murder of Tillie Smith at Hackettstown, in April, began at Belvidere, N. J., yesterday before Chief Justice Beasley in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Warren County. When court adjourned at 5:30 o'clock a full jury had been selected. The trial excites unusual interest, and the town is so crowded that hotel accommodations are at a premium. to seek rooms in private houses. The weather is very warm, and the packed court-room was like a furnace all the afternoon. It was noon when Titus was brought into court. On the bench sat Judge Bearley, clean-shaven and scholarly-looking, with deep lines about the mouth. Beside him were Lay Judge Silas Dewitt and Lay Judges George H. Beatty and Uzul Cantield. They have queer ways of doing things in New Jer-sey. For instance, in a case like this, it takes at least three judges to try it-the real judge lay judges are usually old farmers with no knowledge of law, but lots of good hard sense. They sit around, log wise and say nothing. Nobody, not even the lawyers, seems to have any very clear idea as to what these lay judges are for, or why the courts could not get along just as well without them, but they are a New Jersey institution, and no self-respecting resident of the State would feel that he had been properly tried without their presence.

THE FRISONER.

When Titus was brought into court he took a seat near his counsel. just in front of the desk. He is a thin, medium-sized, nervous looking man, with sharp features, sailow complexion. brown hair and mustache, and sunken blue eyes. He was neatly dressed in a black frock coat, black trousers and plain black tie. He lcoks like a consumptive. He has been in jail since May, and the confinement has told upon his health and general appearance. He watched the proceedings carefully, but seldom spoke to those about him. Beside him sat his tather-in-law, a gray-whiskered old man, who took the keenest interest in all that was going on. The prisoner's counsel are J. G. Shipman of Belvidere, a smooth-faced gentleman with a harsh voice and somewhat aggressive manner, and Mercer Beasley, Jr., of Trenton, a brown-bearded, shrewd-looking young man, son of the presiding Judge. The retaining of the latter for the defense was considered a clever stroke of policy on the part of the Titus crowd. With these are associated George Shipman of Belvidere, and B. F. Darvey and J. C. Allen of Hackettstown, N. J., as assistant counsel. The prosecution is represented by S. C. Smith of Phillipsburg, as chief prosecutor, assisted by H. S. Harris of Belvidere. The former is comparatively a young man, but sharp, and rates as an able lawyer. He will make a hard fight. Mr. Harris is a short, joily-looking ex-Congressman, who is also considered a good lawyer.

THE INDICTMENT DEFECTIVE.

When the case was called Lawyer Shipman, for the defense, moved to quash the second count of the indictment, which charges that the defendant, while committing and attempting to commit an assault upon Tillie Smith, did kill and murder her. He held that the count was improperly drawn in that it charged two separate offenses, and that the crime of assault was not properly and sufficiently set forth. The Judge decided that the point was weil taken, and nim, he would overrule the motion, leaving is to the prosecution to say whether they would go ahead under the indictment as drawn, at the same time warning them that in his rulings on evidence he would be governed by his views as expressed concerning the point at issue.

in-law, did not appear in court yesterday. The line of the detense has not yet been made known. The evidence of the prosecution is entirely circumstantial. There will be a great deal of expert testimony on both sides. The hearing of testimony will begin this morning. The jury will not be allowed to see the newspapers during the trial. The Judge has also requested the reporters not to express any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused in their reports while the case is going on.

been received by the Department of Mounted Police from the Crow Creek Agency, Northwest Territory, that the Blood Indians from that reservation have gone on the warpath and are devastating about there in revenge for the killing of six of their band recently by the Gros Ventres. They left their reservation, so the report says, Monday morning after a wardance and went south to Hudson, N. W. T., where they came on a small settlement of whites, some sixteen in number, of whom ten were women and children. These were all killed and scalped, the besieging party carrying off the has been no recurrence of earthquake shocks since 1 scalls as trophies on poles. They then cono'clock yesterday afternoon, although some nervous tinued on their way toward Gros Ventres settlement. Along their track were many farm-houses of settlers. They were all laid in ashes and the inhabitants killed and scalped. Not less than one hundred whites have so far fallen victims to the red devils' knives. Among those killed are two Roman Catholic missionaries at the Crowfoot Agency, whose bodies are said to have been terribly mutilated. All the whites at the reservation, including the Indian Agent, have been killed. After leaving the agency about thirty miles toward the American border the Crowfeet fell in with about sixty Gros Ventres, and a desperate fight ensued. The killed and wounded on each side cannot be estimated correctly, but it is believed the Crowfeet lost nine killed and thirty wounded, while over fifty fell be-longing to the Gros Ventres tribe. One huntacking party, as well as a large amount of elothing and ammunition. It is estimated by the Department that at least $35,000 worth of put down the rising, but it is expected that the whole force, some 1,500 men, will be necessary, as the Rockies and Canada Sioux will join in the uprising. Crowfoot, the Chief of the rebellious tribe is now on his way here and cannot, therefore, be expected to use his influence to me, they are the rising. will call out a force of at least 2,000 infantry and cavairy to go to the scene of the troubles, to assist the mounted police. It has been asserted, however, that he has not been well pleased with the way the commission has been managed, and—wants to retire. The commissioner is at his home in Indiana where he has been for the last two months. He has written to his hotel where he lives when here, that it is doubtful about his returning. It is said that Edgerton is not over pleased with the manner in which Oberly is running the machine, the two do not get on well together. Edgerton thinks that as he is the older in the service of reform, Oberly should not make himself so conspicuous in the management of the honors. Edgerton is charged with having said that Oberly is nothing but a spoilsman, and has no interest in sympathy with the service of reform.

The Austrian Mission.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. Washington, D. C., September 29.—The President was asked since his return what he intended to do with reference to the mission Austria. He said he had believed it was now time that this Government should have a representative at the Austrian court. He intimated that in all probability the appointment would be made within the next sixty days, perhaps sooner. The opinion quite generally prevails that Congressman Tucker of Virginia can have the appointment if he would accept and its custe proposities. if he would accept, and it is quite probable that he would do so.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

Officers of Iowa Taking Precaution Against the Cattle Contagion.

CHICAGO, September 29.-Gov. Larrabee of Iowa, and Dr. Stalker, State Veterinarian of Iowa, were in the city yesterday. They are determined to prevent, if possible, the spread of pleuro-pneumonia in their State and spent the entire day visiting the officers of the westound railroads. All these gentlemen agreed not to ship any cattle from Chicago over of health from the State Veteri-

Larrabee said to a reporter that the report that pleuro-pneumonia was carried from fow that pleuro-pneumonia was carried from the case of the disease in Iowa. Speaking of the disease in Iowa. Speaking of the dispatches from Dakota, stating that there was great mortality there from pleuro-pneumonia. A local paper says this morning that although the health inspector at the stock yards denies the report, it is known that two or three lots of cattle have come in recently were the stock yards twenty-one cars loaded with Colorado cattle. Several head were pulled from the cars dead, while many were in that condition when they are termed "downers." The cattle called "downers" were quickly bought up by the scalpers and sent to the various slaughter-houses in Bridgeport. The cattle called "downers" were quickly bought up by the scalpers and sent to the various slaughter-houses in Bridgeport. The fact that the animals were suffering from Texas fever or spleen disease was first discovered by one of the butchers. An examination of the animals showed several of them to be afflicted. In every case, the spleen was enlarged to triple its normal size. The kidneys were discolored, and the beef, in many instances, yellow. The beef was condemned by office tamb on Sunday looked the remainder of the cattle, several hundred in number. Monday a buyer purchased the cattle for his house. They were sent to the packing-house, where all were killed. Over thirty were found to be afficted with Texas fever and were condemned.

he Emissary of Lawlessness Gets a Rough Handling by the Chicago Press. CHICAGO, September 29.-The Times this norning says: Dr. Aveling, the English Appeals. ocialist who has come to this country to resie the Chicago anarchists from the gallows, is not pleased with the comments ventured by

The remarks to which this emissary of lawiessness takes particular exception included some very wholesome advice to bimself and the other agitators that are now traveling in this country. The Times told them very plainly that their presence in Chicago was not desired, and suggested that they would consult their presonal comfort by abandoning their proposed visit to this city. This suggestion was based, of course, upon the presumption that they contemplated a repitition in Chicago of their pre-formances in New York. It appears from the statements of Dr. Aveling that such was their intention, and that it has not yet been abandoned. In short Dr. Aveling and wife and Herr Liebknecht propose coming to Chicago for the purpose of inciting, if they can, resistance to the execution of the sentence passed upon their co-religionaries, who now languish in the Cook County jail. In order to accomplish this end, they will attack the laws and institutions of this country, and seek to inflame passions of the vicious and turbulent elements of the community by the same methods they are now employing in the East. In a word, their errand in Chicago will be to renew the propagands of crime partially interrupted by the incarceration of the miscreants who have been carrying it on in this city for years past. The Times has intimated to these incendiaries that this will be a dangerous business. It has said that there is more medicine in reserve of the sort that has been prescribed for the Haymarket assassins, which will promptly be administered to any who shall attempt to emulate their crimes. If Dr. Aveling and his vitrolic spouse and their teutonic co-laborer in the cause of revolution do not believe the Times they will certainly become convinced of its truthfulness, should they undertake the experiment upon which they seem to be bent. The public sentiment of this community is in no mood to triffe with frebrands of the Aveling Liebench variety. The Haymarket butchery is too fresh in the oppular memory to expect that any latitude will be given to persons who may come hither t some very wholesome advice to himself and the other agitators that are now traveling in this in the popular memory to expect that any lati-ude will be given to persons who may come niturer to preach the detestable doctrines that pore fruit in that horrible crime.

OTTAWA, Ontario, September 29 .- Since the first demand for the release of the Canadian sealing schooner Onward, recently seized by the United States revenue cutter Corwin in the United States revenue cutter Corwin in the Alaskan sea, was forwarded to the Colonial Office, London, to be laid before the authorities at Washington, a supplementary demand has been made through the same channel, in which it is pointed out that in a convention signed at St. Petersburg between England and Russia, one of the articles guarantees to British subjects, from whatsoever quarter they may arrive, the right to forever enjoy the privileges of navigation and fishing in the Pacific Ocean, or any part thereof. From this point it is argued that the United States could not have received from Russia the right to exclusive navigation or fishing or sealing privileges in the Alaskan waters.

The samples were gathered by Mr. Erown on one of the farms of the Monte Vista Land & Irrigating Canal Company, who own what are called the North and South farms, located at Monte Vista, Rio Grande, in the famous San Luis Valley. The North farm contains 7,000, the South farms 3,000 acres, which are all devoted to the ruising of wheat and oats. Mr. B. informs us that he saw thirty reapers and binders in operation at one time on this mammoth farm, manned by Mexicans and Swedes, but superintended by Americans. It is self-evident that a physician paying particular attention to a class of cases attains great skill. Age and Experience are important. In this oldest office in America every known appliance is resorted to and the PROVED-GOOD REMEDIES of all ages and countries are used. My charges for medicines are as low as can be made. I use only the best. Very cheap medicines are dangerous and useless; avoid them. On account of the great number of cases applying, the charges are kept low, often lower than be demanded by others, and knowing what to do. NO EXPERIMENTS ARE MADE. If you secure the skill and get a speedy and perfect cure, that is the important matter.

VIOLET AND LORD LONSDALE. . The Alleged Ejectment of the Actress from the Hoffman House.

New York, September 29.—Miss Violet Cam-eron's husband, David Debensaude, got out of bed in the Morton House at 8 o'clock yeserday morning, and went up to Delmo Lonsdale. Violet Cameron and her sister, quarters in the Hotel Madison at Thirty-ninth street and Broadway. Although Lord Lonsdale had engaged rooms at the Madison he did not occupy them Monday night. After all the reporters had gone for the night he came down and met Debensaude, who was still in the Hotel Madison bar-room. They had a glass of cordial together and stroiled down Broadway, Lonsdale to his elegant rooms in Delmonico's and Husband Debensaude to his modest single room in the Morton House. They parted pleasantly enough, and when they met at breakfast Debensaude seemed to have forgotten that Lonsdale and he were not friends. Lord Lonsdale sent for Proprietor Ed Stokes of the Hoffman House and mutual explanations took place as to Miss Cameron's departner from the Hoffman House and mutual explanations took place as to Miss Cameron's departner from the Hoffman House and tions took place as to Miss Cameron's departure from the Hoffman House the evening before. Debensaude then disappeared and was not seen again until early in the evening, when his wife, looking out of her parior window, saw him patrolling Thirty-ninth street in front of the Hotel Madison. He had spent the day with Lionel Brough.

Miss Cameron does not regard herself as ejected from the Hoffman House. She states that she desired to be nearer the Casino, and she would have made a change anyway. Lord Lonsdale in speaking of Debensaude's frequent visits to him since the party arrived said, "Perhaps Debensaude is plumb broke, my boy. Of course, I don't know that he is, for he hasn't asked me for any money. If he did he wouldn't get a confounded cent. Of course he has some motive in coming to see me, but in his conversation he has never led up to it yet. This Benzine or Bensaude or what's his name I hardly know, first asked me to act as mediator between thimself and his wife. There was some trouble between them over some funds, and they wanted me to act as trustee. My wife knows exactly my relations to Miss Cameron and this opera company. She knows and trusts me. That is all I care for. Lady Lonsdale has been very ill, or shewould have come over with me. I expect she will join me here just as soon as she is well.

A special from Aber-deen says Engle will accept.

An Inventor's Advice

George Stevenson, when advising young men how to get on, would finish by saying: "Do as I have done—persevere." For fitteen years he plodded and worked before giving the finishing touches to his locomotive. In as many days those persevering in the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" have experienced great relief and found themselves on the high road to health. Liver complaints, impure blood, chronic lung diseases and many others yield to its healing influences never to return. All druggists.

BOBBY'S BREAK DOWN.

Robert Caruthers from the ball field, made exclusively in the Post-Dispatch of yesterday, created probably more gossip in local base ball circles than any item published this season except the withdrawal of Mr. Henry V. Lucas from the business. On every hand were heard expressions of sorrow for the loss of the genial Bonby, and after the first gush of sen-timent was over the gossips began to wag their tongues giving circulation to all kinds of rumors much the same as those of which Robert was the subject last spring. It was said that without Caruthers the Browns could not win the Association pennant next year; that Caruthers' dissatisfaction with the discipline of the club was the princi pal cause of his quitting; that his family had ffered him a big sum of money to withdraw, being arranged between the two clubs.

As a matter of course Bobby still sticks to the heart disease theory and will have it no other way but the way the Baitimorean physician pronounced it. Before releasing h.m unconditionally President Von der Ahe will no doubt institute strict inquiry into the pitcher's case. Caruthers is as strong and healthy looking as he ever was in his life and is the perfect picture of an athlete in condition.

Detroit Secures Smith.

NEW YORK, September 29 .- Manager Wat kins and Vice-President Smith of the Detroit Base Ball Club were in Newark last night, and and managers of the Newark Club, it was agreed to sell John Smith, the pitcher of the Newarks, to the Detroits. The consideration was not stated, but was several thousand dol-lars. Smith will join the Detroits in New York on Thursday.

THE NEWARK MUDDLE.

Directors of the Club Say They Will Go to Law for Protection.

From the New York Heraid.

There is considerable trouble brewing in Newark for many of the players on the champion Eastern League team of that city and for the managers of several League and Association clubs that have been tampering with them. The directors recently made application for admission to the International League for next year in view of the fact that there is no prospect of a change in the larger associations. The Eastern League is a party to the National axreement, and the Newark Club would like to hold its men. The directors have information that Manager Mutris of New York obtained the Consent of Burns and John Smith, pitcher, to play in the League team next year. Several days after the deal was made public Pitcher Smith presented a check for $800 at the Merchants National Bank in Newark for payment, It was on the Park Bank of New York and the directors at once surmised that it was from the manager of the New York Oltab.

Early last week negotiations were secretly made with several of the players by Manager Barnle of the Swittmore Club. The managers also learned that $1,300 arrived in Newark for payment, and the remaining $800 was banded over to John B. Day of New Shanded over to John B. Day Manager Mutrie of New York obtained the consent of Burns and John Smith, pitcher, to play in the League team next year. Several days after the deal was made public Pitcher Smith presented a check for $800 at the Meronants' National Bank in Newark for payment, It was on the Park Bank of New York, and the directors at once surmised that it was from the manager of the New York Club.

Early last week negotiations were secretly made with several of the players by Manager Barnie of the Baitimore Club. The managers also learned that $1,300 arrived in Newark from the financial backers of the Association team in that city. Greenwood, the second baseman of the Newark Club, received $500 of the amount, and the remaining $800 was handed over to John B. Day of New York. Shortly after this transaction Smith denied that he had made arrangements to play in New York, and then, changing his mind, he arreed to go to Baitimore. The latter club then refunded to John B. Day the money advanced to Smith. It is very probable that Baitimore has secured Smith, Trott and Greenwood, and they propose to have a tilt with Barnie.

When the Post-Dispatch remarked last and other senseless and idiotic speculations, which, as a rule, have the stamp of the rabid crank upon them. Perhaps the wildest idea of all was one that was pretty thoroughly canvassed in the down-town resorts and hotels, where cranks assemble. It was to the effect that Bobby's heart disease was nothing more or less than a clever scheme to secure his release from the Browns in order to join the Chicago Club and some of the bolder speculators even went so far as to predict that he would appear with the White Stockings against the Browns in the event of a series of games for the championship of America being arranged between the two clubs.

of the Irish tenants to pay their rents, owing to the fall in the price of produce, it is evident that two modes are intended, first, to endeavor to keep up rents in order to carry out some scheme of land purchase, bused upon excessive valuation; secondly, to create dis-order in Ireland as an excuse for coercion. We are threatened with a raid upon the Imperial exchequer for the benefit of the landlords, and the Irish are threatened with the suppression of their liberties. Against this, both we and the Irish must struggle to the last. At the recent election the Tories and the Unionist-Liberals vied with each other in denouncing any scheme of land purchase involving either directly or indirectly any liability on the part of the Imperial tax-payer. Whatever may have been the verdict of the constituencies upon other matters, upon this matter it was undoubted. One plan which has been suggested is not without its merits. The Liberals in Parliament must declare that they will refuse to recognize any imperial obligation incurred for the benefit of the Irish landlords, and that as soon as they are in power they the Tories and the Unionist-Liberals

In Parliament must declare that they will refuse to recognize any imperial obligation in curred for the benefit of the Irish landlords, and that as soon as they are in power they will abrogate any such obligations. The effect of this will be that the Irish landlords will be disinclined to part with their lands for bonds, the validity or which will only continue so long as the Tories retain hold of affairs. The fact is, the landocracy is aware that the prices of produce are likely to fail still further and wish to sell their land to the community before it to cases to have any value beyond a mere nominal one. They are wise in this, but we shall be fools if we allow ourselves to be robbed in this fashion. Agricultural land in Great Britain does not bring in, allowing for reductions of sent, more than 15 shillings per acre, of this 10 shillings per acre, the landlords. It Land, therefore, in Great Britain is not worth more than 5 shillings per acre at the present which have been paid for by the landlords. It Land, therefore, in Great Britain is not worth more than 5 shillings per acre at the present twill very soon be worth even less.

In Ireland there are 15,000,000 acres of cultivated land. The present rent is £8,000,000 per annum, which gives a rental of about 11 shillings per acre. All the buildings, improvements, etc., have been made at the cost of the tenants, and are paid for in tenant right. It follows, therefore, that whereas the rent far land in Great Britain is 5shillings per acre, the Ireland it is worth 11 shillings per acre obviously, therefore, that whereas the rent far land in Great Britain is 5shillings per acre, the Ireland.

The Judicial rents were, I suspect, estimated at too high a figure, but unquestionably they are too high now. Assuming that they were not fixed at too low a figure before 1884, since then, I think, it will be admitted that the price of produce from land has fallen is per cent. Now observe how this works out. Let us take a farm rented at £100 per annum. The gross produce of s

A SEVERE STORM.

The Becent Destructive Gale in Texas—The Damage to Shipping.

C'HICAGO, September 29 .- A Times specia from Corpus Christi, Tex., says: The first information regarding the facts of last Thurs day's severe storm in the vicinity of Harbor Island was received yesterday, communication having just been established. During the gale of the 23d the island was inundated by the Gulf waters so that nothing was to be seen except the quarantine station, and the top of the Arkansas Pass Railroad, which was damaged. Capt. Newman of the schooner Coquette, in company with three other men, capsized in the yawl boat. Capt. Newman and one man were drowned. The other two were washed ashore and rescued. The life-saving station boat put out to them, but too late to be of any service. Vessels-stranded: The schooner Forest Home is ashore inside the bar; the steamer Sidbury, which was at Arkansas Bar the day of the gale of the 23d inst. loaded with ties for the Arkansas Bar the day of the gale of the 23d inst. loaded with ties for the Arkansas Road, is reported ashore about seventy miles below Brownsville, a total loss. No lives were lost. The tide in the bay has hardly failen six inches since the day of the gale. Yesterday the weather was very squally and the water is coming up again. Telegraph wires are still down, and reported badly damaged near Indianola. day's severe storm in the vicinity of Harbon

Gentlemen—Six weeks ago I commenced taking your Durfy's Formula. I was completely run down in health from want of sleep, poor appetite and weighing only 121 pounds. Since then my restoration to health has been wonderful. I now weigh 156 pounds, sleep well and have a good appetite. I never felt better in all my life.

Lakewood, N. J.

Gentlemen—The benefits derived from your Duffy's Formula have been such that too much cannot be said in its praise. The allment that I formerly had in the side has about entirely disappeared, and the bad taste that I had in my mouth every morning, and which was very disagreeable, has, since tasting a small portion of your whiskey every night before retiring, entirely left me. Appetite was never better, and have no feeling of being puffed up after meals, and the dizzluess which I was greatly troubled with has to a great extent entirely left me. My weight has increased nearly 12 pounds.
